

What We Need

Below is a list of health, hygiene, and household care items that low-income families may have difficulty obtaining. These items are essential for daily living but can be costly for families with limited resources. Hello, Jean!'s distribution of these items can make a significant difference in the lives of those in need. Providing access to these health, hygiene, and cleaning supplies helps families maintain basic personal and household cleanliness, supporting their overall well-being.
